

"Corky" Dyer is another truly dedicated, talented, and knowledgeable equine manager plus riding instructor for Dream Riders. Corky is a mother of a 35 year old son with special needs and has many years of horse experience . Corky brings wisdom and discernment and Jennifer Stoudemire, her daughter brings her knowledge and riding ability together they have made an awesome team making Dream Riders a successful riding program.

Corky is considered the "Mom" and eyes of Dream Riders. She keeps her eyes on the situations in the ring making sure the stirrups are even and the rider is centered. She also watches for safety situations around the ring and keeping the volunteers focused and aware of any problems that she sees with the rider/ horse teams. This allows Jennifer to focus on the riding and teaching of the rider. Corky works with training and retaining volunteers making sure all feel needed and appreciated. During lesson time you will also see her with her poop scooper and muck bucket cleaning up the riding arena during lesson time.

Corky is one who continually strives to increase her abilities as an effective equestrian instructor for special needs riders through continued education. Corky gives direction to Dream Riders in her ability to develop new ideas and plans for expanding the Dream Riders program to serve more people in the mid-state of SC. She is commitment to all people with special needs through serving on local and state-wide boards focusing on people with special needs. She does all this, in addition to devotion to her family and the Dream Riders program.

Corky's Certifications

- PATH International Registered Certified Riding Instructor
- Equestrian Instructor Certification through Horsemanship Safety Association
- Certified Special Olympics Equestrian Sport Coach